TEN CENTS A WEEK

MEETING ARRANGED TONIGHT

For Conference Between South American Envoys
and Delegates

EMBARRASSMENT FELT

On Account of Impatience
of the Public in Awaiting Adjustment of the Mexican Question—No Vital Issues Yet Reached.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Niagara Falls, Ont., May 23.—Announcement was made shortly after noon today that the first full conference between the mediators and both the American and Mexican delegates will be held tonight.

It was arranged at the request of the Mexican delegates, who met the mediators informally this morning,
after which the South American delegates sent for the American delegates to consult them about the matter.

It is understood that the envoys
felt confident of being able to remove such obstacles as had delayed proceedings during the consideration of preliminary measures.

Delegates representing both sides of the controversy between the United States and General Huerta will go into their first business session hopeful that an amicable adjustment of all their differences will be the outcome.

The sudden calling of a full session
tonight was not expected by the American delegates. They had made no plans for a meeting today. The envoys of South America had one talk with the Mexican delegates and it was generally thought that nothing more would occur today. Shortly thereafter the Mexican delegates requested
another audience with the mediators
and as the result of this second talk
the announcement was made that preliminaries had been sufficiently smoothed out to justify formal sessions of all of the principals to the mediation.

A great deal of embarrassment is felt by the envoys of Brazil, Argentina, and Chile, as well as by the delegates of the Washington and Mexico governments, because of the impatience of the public which is awaiting an adjustment of the Mexican question. Every day they are overwhelmed with inquiries as to the part the constitutionalists may play in the negotiations looking to the composition of differences between Huerta and the United States and similar questions. The most persistent relate to the future of Huerta and whether his resignation has been demanded.

As a matter of fact not one of the vital issues has been reached and it would relieve those working here if the public could understand that in diplomacy more than in any other calling it is necessary to make haste slowly. Until the preliminaries of the mediation conference could be smoother out, the South American envoys did not hope to say how long the conference would continue. After separate sessions last night with delegates from Mexico and the United States, the mediators said they believed they were almost ready to progress in the popular acceptance of the terms.

The situation as it has been so far was explained by a spokesman for the mediators and the delegates in order to clear away the misunderstanding. It is this:

"Notwithstanding introductions in Washington, the South American diplomats, the representatives of the United States and of the Huerta government came together practically as individual strangers and also with imperfect knowledge of the issues to be presented. As in all negotiations of this character, time necessarily was consumed in becoming acquainted and in reaching an understanding of each other's personal idiosyncrasies.

"When President Wilson and General Huerta accepted the good offices of the South American envoys

to settle their differences the latter felt certain that the Niagara Falls conferences would be pregnant of very great possibilities and reach far beyond peace in Mexico and touch
the peace of the whole western hemisphere. They now feel the delicacy of their positions and are doing their utmost to avoid the false steps that might endanger the success of their efforts.

Out of this conference is to come,
it is hoped by those upon whom the responsibility has fallen, some clarifying of the view of all Latin-America respecting the attitude of the United States and the relation of this country for a long time to come with the republics of Central and South America. Perhaps also they think there may come a better interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine that will more fully meet approval of all the republics of this hemisphere.

WILL SPEND $3,000,000 FOR GOOD ROADS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Columbus, May 23.—About 1,000 miles of inter-county and main market roads will be built in Ohio this summer, approximately $3,000,000 will be spent and 10,000 men will be employed as a result of an opinion that contracts may be let on funds anticipated from the special half mill levy for road purposes, without waiting until the money actually is in the state treasury, giving to State Highway Commissioner James D. Marker
by Attorney General Hogan today.
Mr. Marker said he would begin advertising for bids on road improvement within a week or two.

PRESIDENT OF DEFUNCT BANK WAS ARRESTED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Paris, Ky., May 23.—It was unofficially estimated today by state banking representatives that the indebtedness of the bank of George Alexander & Company, which was closed by the state banking department last Tuesday, would reach $180,000. As a result of the closing of the bank Geo.
Alexander president of the bank, was taken into custody late yesterday on three statutory warrants, sworn out by Thomas J. Smith, state banking commissioner, who charged Alexander with having made false entries,
securing the making of false entries,
and with misappropriation of the funds. Alexander was released on $50,500 bond.

AERONAUT DROWNS IN THE MISSISSIPPI AT ALTON, ILL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Alton, Ill., May 23.—Robert Cowan, an aeronaut, was drowned here
last night when his balloon dropped into the Mississippi river.
A large crowd which stood on the bluffs of Alton witnessed the accident.

As the balloon ascended, Cowan
was clinging to a trapeze which hung from the parachute. When he had reached a height of 500 feet, Cowan's foster father, who remained on the ground was to fire a revolver as a signal for the young aeronaut to descend. The revolver failed to work and the balloon drifted toward the river. When midway over the stream the big bag collapsed and fell.

A government launch hurried out but the crew failed to find young Cowan who was clinging to the trapeze as he struck the water.

SENATOR BRADLEY WEAKER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, May 23.—Small hope was entertained by attending physicians early today for the recovery of Senator Bradley of Kentucky, who has been critically ill here for some time. His condition was such last night that physicians remained at his bedside. Early today Senator Bradley was reported to be gradually growing weaker.

Lightship Halifax With Crew of 25 Lost While Off Nova Scotia Coast

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Halifax, N. S., May 23.—The loss of the new lightship Halifax No. 19, with all the 25 men on board, is indicated by the discovery of wreckage
and three bodies near Liscomb, 100 miles east of here, today. The lightship was on her way to this port from Paisely, Scotland, where she was built.

The lightship, which was due here yesterday, is believed to have struck a rock while feeling her way through the thick fog that has enshrouded the coast for several days.

The wreckage was sighted and the bodies picked up by the steamer
Dufferin which reported that life belts marked "Halifax No. 19" were strapped about each of the victims.

Upon receipt of the news of the wreck the government marine agency here made preparations to send out steamers in search of other bodies. All of the victims are believed to be Scotchmen who were engaged by the builders at Paisely to navigate the vessel across the Atlantic.

SILLIMAN SAFE AT CAPITAL

Arrives at Mexico City
In Good Health, Wires
Brazilian Minister

WILL LEAVE MONDAY

For Vera Cruz Where He Will Embark for Washington—Constitutionalists
Will Have Telegraph Consultation With Carranza.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, May 23.—Watchful waiting on mediation continued to be the attitude of the Washington government today in the Mexican situation. President Wilson left the White House early for a ride and recreation after receiving encouraging
reports of the preliminary peace negotiations from American commissioners Lamar and Lehmann.

Evidencing no anxiety over the military situation, Secretary Garrison had gone to Atlantic City for a few days rest. He said the situation was relieved by the safe arrival of Vice-consul John Silliman at Mexico City. He received a dispatch from the Brazilian minister in the Mexican capital stating that Silliman was in good health and that he would remain at the Brazilian legation until Monday before proceeding to Vera Cruz.

Representatives of the Mexican constitutionalists here resumed conferences over the somewhat uncertain mediation situation as concerning their interests expecting to hear from General Carranza and from Jose Vasconcelos on his way here from New York. Mr. Vasconcelos, who had been mentioned as a probable agent of the constitutionalists to keep them in touch with mediation proceedings, already had announced that he had received no instructions of such a nature and that he was coming to Washington to confer with representatives of his chief.

At the war and navy department communications were received early in the day from General Funston at Vera Cruz and American admirals in Mexican waters. Consul Canada forwarded a wireless message sent yesterday from Tampico asking that New York underwriters be advised that the steamer Atlantic, which ran ashore two days ago twenty miles north of Point Jerez probably would be a total loss. She had no cargo and her passengers as previously reported, had been rescued. The steamer Monterey which left Puerto Mexico yesterday, Consul Canada reported, would proceed to New Orleans carrying 456 refugees.

Whether General Carranza, constitutionalist chief, would determine to send a representative to the mediation eagerly awaited here today.
The constitutionalists at Washington still were looking for word
from their chief on their proposal to have an emissary at Niagara, was strongly intimated, and it was expected that after another consultation with Carranza late today, some positive light would be shed
on the situation.

Jose Vasconcelos, one of Carranza's confidential representatives, who has been mentioned in connection with the proposed mission was to arrive here today. Plans for sending a constitutionalist representative to

SIGNAL HONOR IS ACCORDED CONSUL'S BODY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Liverpool, May 23.—The body of the late John L. Griffiths, United States consul general in London, was carried on board the Carmania today
for shipment to New York, after having rested in state since yesterday in the town hall of Liverpool. The only other foreigner ever reburied, this honor was the late Mayor Gaynor of New York.

The Lord Mayor of Liverpool and a strong detachment of police escorted the body from the town hall to the dock.

"DRY" HELP "WETS" TO SAVE THE BREWERY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Preston, Minn., May 23.—When the Preston Brewery, operated in a prohibition town and county, took fire today, several score of men attending a "dry" picnic held in celebration of the recent victory of prohibition at the polls, ran to the rescue. The force of rum fought valiantly and the brewery was saved
with small loss.
The sale of liquor is prohibited
here but manufacture is permitted.

Burton Will Favor Neither Candidate For Governorship

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Cleveland, May 23.—Senator Theodore E. Burton, who arrived today for a two day survey of the political situation in Ohio, declared that he would not take a stand for either Congressman Frank B. Willis of Ada or Former Senator David Tod of Youngstown for the Republican nomination for governor.

"Both Tod and Willis are brainy men and good friends of mine," said Burton. "Either is capable of ably filling the gubernatorial chair.
I am content to let the rank and file of the Republican party make its own choice. I will not open my mouth in behalf of either between now and the primaries."

ROCKEFELLER WILL NOT SEE JUDGE LINDSEY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
New York, May 23.—John D.
Rockefeller, jr., put an end today
to the persistent rumors of a proposed conference with Judge Ben Lindsey, of Denver, relative to the Colorado strike situation by stating through his secretary that the interview would never take place. At Mr.
Rockefeller's office it was said that a letter and a telegram had been received from Judge Lindsey asking for an interview, but that Mr.
Rockefeller had refused to meet him.
The report that Judge Lindsey had been admitted to the Rockefeller estate at Pocantico Hills last night and had spent the night there was absurd, said Mr. Rockefeller's secretary.

BRAZIL NAVAL OFFICERS WILL STUDY IN U. S.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, May 23.—Permission has been given to the Brazilian government to send three naval officers to the United States to study modern battleships and military matters.
The men chosen are Second Lieutenants Carlos Botto, Godofredo Rangel, and Antonio Pojeuan Caval-canti and each probably will be assigned to a different ship. They are to report to Admiral Badger, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet,
on board the Vaconing at Vera Cruz.
This courtesy to foreign military officials is a part of the policy adopted by the United States toward the governments of the South American republics.

GANG PLANK BROKE; THREE WERE DROWNED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
New York, May 23.—Three drowned, fourteen injured, appeared today to sum up the casualties incident to the breaking yesterday of the gang plank leading to the steamship Frederick VIII. The dead are Annette Foldschau, a child, and Mrs.
Anna Edwardsen, both of whose bodies were recovered.
Search was still being conducted for the Edwardsen child's body today. An investigation into the accident has been ordered by the Hoboken authorities.

ARREST WOMAN WHO SHOT MAN IN CLEVELAND

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Cleveland, May 23.—Mrs. Stella Foe, American wife of a Chinese restaurant keeper is being held at police headquarters today on a charge of shooting to wound, following the shooting of Alex McCoy early this morning on Hamilton avenue. Police claim McCoy insulted the woman.

Successful Convention of Licking Co. Sunday Schools Terminated This Afternoon

Saturday afternoon marked the closing of the thirty-fourth annual Licking County Sunday School convention and undoubtedly one of the most successful conventions ever held. A splendid array of speakers graced the program, and the attendances were unusual, over 150 delegates registering during the sessions.

At 1:30 the delegates assembled and another delightful fifteen minutes of song was enjoyed under the direction of Prof. Carl Eschman, who has done much to add to the enthusiasm of the meeting. The "School of Methods" was then held the divisions being: Home department Mrs. Phoebe
A. Curtis; secondary division, Rev.
Millard Brelsford pastor of the Baptist church at Granville; Bible study, Rev. C. G. Hazlett; Organized Adult
department Dr. Charles Sull pastor of the First Street Baptist church, Newark; Missions, Mrs. D. C. Gilmore, Baptist college, Rangoon, Burma; Township Officers' conference, Mr. L. L. Anderson, Granville.

Mrs. Phoebe A. Curtis then delivered another of her splendid and instructive talks in "The Big Girl World."
The sessions concluded at 3:30 o'clock with benediction.

Friday Afternoon.
One of the most interesting addresses of the session was that delivered on Friday afternoon by Dr.

AGAIN FACES CHAIR

Former Police Lieutenant
Becker Is Again Found Guilty of Murder

ONLY ONE BALLOT TAKEN

Tears Stream Down Jury Foreman's Cheeks As He Announces Finding—Appeal Will Act as Stay of Execution

New York, May 23.—For the second time Charles F. Becker, former police lieutenant today occupies a cell in Tombs Prison the convicted murderer of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, for the actual killing of whom the four gun men paid the penalty in the electric chair a little more than a month ago.

Today, as on October 25, 1912,
the day following his first conviction
for the murder of Rosenthal, Becker's only hope to escape the fate of the gunmen lay in the success of an appeal from the verdict. On Friday of next week Becker will be sentenced, and soon thereafter he will be returned to the death house at Sing Sing prison, which he left last February on the order of the court of appeals that he be given a new trial.

An appeal by Becker's counsel,
which is certain to be made, will act
as a stay of execution, giving Becker more than a year to live and with it the hope of another reversal of the judgment of the trial court.

Becker, once a police lieutenant,
was found guilty of murder in the first degree. Only a pardon or interference again by the Court of Appeals can save him from following to the electric chair the four gunmen who shot Herman Rosenthal, a gambler, early on the morning of July 16, 1912. The jury decided that the gunmen were Becker's agents.

One ballot decided Becker's fate.
It was taken almost immediately after the jurors returned from luncheon at an uptown hotel, where they went as soon as Supreme Court Justice Samuel Seabury finished his charge. It was unanimous for conviction.

Tears streamed down the foreman's face as he announced the decision and tears stood in the eyes of several other jurors, but sympathy did not warp their judgment. They had agreed that the corroboration which the district attorney failed to present at the first trial to support
the stories of Rose, Vallon and Webber, the three accomplices, who turned informers, had been furnished by the new witnesses at the second.

The defendant was granted a short meeting with his wife and his brothers and then taken back to his cell in the Tombs.

Becker and his wife were talking shortly before 5 o'clock in a room adjoining the Sheriff's office
when a Court attendant announced that the jury had reached a verdict.
Mrs. Becker was not permitted to accompany her husband to the courtroom. Newspaper men, Court attendants, counsel for the defense and District Attorney Whitman and his staff were the only other persons allowed in the room.

W. H. Kellogg, pastor of the Broad Street M. E. church, of Columbus, and Dr. Kellogg spoke on "The Tragedy of Adolescence." The speaker said that the age of adolescence was also the age of imagination, and that one of the greatest faults of the instructor or teacher was the effort to curb the imagination, when it should be cultivated. In the boy especially during the age when he begins to think, it should not be suppressed but rather diverted into the proper channel.

The adolescent age should be made the age of spirituality. All the perplexities and doubts of that age are but the working out toward God. Dr.
Kellogg said that the saddest reflection of his life was that as a boy
the church never came within the dome of his life.

He then spoke of a boy's play,
how in the modern day he is hampered for want of room and how the recreation hours should be directed,
and how if he had to choose the care of a boy during the Sunday school hour, or during his play hour, he would take him during the play hour
to accomplish the greater good.

"It is the same thing for a boy to play
as for a man to pray," said the lecturer, "and the play hour should be led up with the prayer hour."

D. F. Ross was seriously injured in Zanesville when an electric car collided with his motorcycle. His wife, who was riding with him, was also injured.

PURE WHITE

The use of cheap soap is false economy. Whilst many of the cheap grades of common, yellow laundry soap take out the dirt, they also eat into the linens, muslins, woolen or even the coarsest fabrics, by reason of the large amount of free alkali and other ingredients which they contain.

EASY TASK SOAP

is pure, white, and unequalled for laundry and kitchen uses. It is made of the very best ingredients, of highest cleansing value, is harmless and antiseptic and does away with the necessity for hard rubbing and scrubbing, which soon wears out the goods.

Easy Task Soap is sold at all grocers. Price five cents per cake.

DENTISTRY

IS PRACTICED WITHOUT OLD TIME TERRORS AT SHAI & HILL'S REMODELED SUITE.

Equipment for Doing Every Branch Including New Methods Has Been Installed.

There is no line of business in which a mental influence, either for good or ill is more potent exercised upon those who come into contact with it, by the surroundings and equipment, than in dentistry. This mental attitude has much to do with the actual physical comfort of the patient, if it is one of confidence in the operator, and a pleasant certainty that every appliance used is the most modern as well as of the latest, most approved pattern.

Such offices are now to be found in the suite of five rooms, front and side of the Ankele block, occupied by Drs. J. P. Shai and G. H. Hill. This dental partnership has existed in Newark for about ten years, and has engaged a large and discriminating practice, the growth of which has necessitated frequent changes, and finally a complete remodeling and enlargement of the quarters it has occupied. This work is now complete and there are no better equipped dental parlors in Central Ohio than these.

The inconvenience to patrons that has existed for the past few weeks, while the repairs have been made is now at an end, and the suite is now a pleasant, commodious, handsomely furnished quarters in which to await the doctors' attention.

The laboratory has been enlarged and the very latest of modern appliances and equipment installed so that in every detail it is now a complete dental workshop, where everything pertaining to the working of crowns, bridges and artificial teeth can be done without any unnecessary delay, and in the most approved manner. Drs. Shai & Hill manufacture their own nitrous oxide for painless extraction of teeth, and with a combination of oxygen the preparation of cavities and other work upon the teeth in done without discomfort to the patient.

A new stock room has a large supply of every kind of teeth, so that a perfect match is certain without the inconvenience of delay in ordering from the wholesaler. From this big stock a fit is inevitable in any case and the motto of the office is to make the teeth fit the patient and not the patient fit the teeth.

There is a private extracting room where this work is skillfully and quickly done, however, complicated the case may be, and in addition there are three individual operating rooms for filling, crowning, bridging and fitting teeth.

Every accessory to the operating department, instruments, furniture and clothing of the dentists are always kept in an absolutely sanitary manner, which knowledge adds to the mental comfort of those upon whom work is done.

Inlay work is the modern method of restoring broken down and decayed teeth, and this is done without the tantalizingly torturous rubber dam tied over the teeth, or the maddening mallet stroke. New and powerful blow-pipes are used, with casting devices of the very latest and modern designs.

The extracting room is now fully equipped to take care of all minor oral operations painlessly, by the use of nitrous oxide and oxygen, somniform, a combination of chloroform and ether. Teeth are pulled painlessly by the use also of obtundant, applied to the gums, for which Shai & Hill have the exclusive rights in this territory.

An emergency outfit has been installed always ready for use in case of accident involving a broken jaw, dislodged teeth or kindred injuries. These cases should be cared for immediately by men of training and experience.

Orthodontia (regulating teeth) is a comparatively new science, and a specialty in itself, and the dental firm is glad to announce that its operators have taken complete courses in this branch of dental surgery, rendering it needless for people of Newark and surroundings county, to go to Columbus or some other city to receive the benefits of this particular class of work.

They have spared neither time nor money in fitting themselves to practice orthodontia in accordance with the most approved rules, and have not nothing but the most gratifying results in regulating cases.

Drs. Shai & Hill have both had very successful experiences and there is no part of their profession that they have not mastered in the minutest detail, always keeping abreast of the times in the very latest discoveries and methods of progressive dentistry.

Associated with them is Dr. H. P. D. Shaffer, who is also a skillful operator and experienced dental surgeon educated along the most accepted lines of the profession.

The fact that three men are at work in the office render it possible to make appointments without the necessity of long delays in having needed work completed.

These offices, as was said, are new and complete in every detail, and a visit will convince any one that everything that is best in the practice is in use by these scientific dentists.

FRAMED THE LETTER.
Literacy has been put to the test in the business world and found wanting in many instances. Take, for example, a communication received some time ago by W. W. Davis of the Licking County Creamery company, from a patron in another state. Mr. Davis considers it such a good one he keeps it in a frame on his desk. It reads:

"Please dun send mor cream thes wick."

Which goes to show that The Office Kid isn't the only one who has a penchant for phonetic spelling.

PILGRIMAGE OF SUFFRAGETTES TO SALEM, O., IN JUNE

The next great demonstration of the Ohio Woman Suffrage association, will be unique. About June 10, date subject to change, there will be a pilgrimage to Salem, Columbiana county, where the second "Women's Rights" convention ever held in the world took place. The Quaker meeting house in which this convention assembled is still standing and the exercises of the day will be conducted either within its historic walls or on the street outside.

JUSTICE YOST OF BURLINGTON TWP. RESIGNS OFFICE

Clerk of Courts B. O. Horton Saturday received the resignation of R. F. Yost of Homer, as justice of the peace of Burlington township. The resignation is occasioned by Magistrate Yost's removal to Union county, where he expects to take up residence June 1. The resignation is effective June 27.

Trustees of the township, D. H. Warner, Bert Brice and S. D. Bash, will appoint a successor to Mr. Yost. The appointment must then be certified to Clerk Horton and by him to the secretary of state, who issues the commission.

BIG OPENING OF CITY DRUG STORE IN NEW QUARTERS

The City Drug Store, C. T. Bricker, proprietor, had a formal opening in the new quarters No. 7 West Side square, Saturday morning, and it is unquestionably one of the finest stores in Ohio. The room is entirely new in all the furnishings, show cases and prescription cases.

The room is large and commodious and has an attractive freshness that was commented upon by all who visited the store. Of course a full line will be carried as heretofore of the purest drugs, and the most complete assortment of everything that goes to make a first class drug store.

Charles E. Matthews, representing Brown & Bigelow of St. Paul, was present during the day distributing lapel flags, dustcaps, and other souvenirs of the occasion.

A. L. Rawlings put in for the day an Edison Gramophone which was operated by Miss Virginia Warner, while flowers and potted plants, furnished by Mr. Cliff Kerr were used effectively for decorative purposes.

Free telephone booths, making possible private conversation over either the Automatic or Bell phones have been built in the rear, which are always at the service of the store's patrons.

In every way the new City Drug Store is an institution which Newark can be proud to number among its commercial successes.

"I am a lover of your godsend to humanity and science. Your medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery, cured my cough of three years' standing," says Jennie Fleming, of New Dover, Ohio. "Have you an annoying cough? Is it stubborn and won't yield to treatment? Get a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery today. What it did for Jennie Fleming it will do for you, no matter how stubborn or chronic a cough may be. It stops a cough and stops throat and lung trouble. Relief or money back, 50c. and $1.00. Recommended by F. D. Hall.

WINTER COURSE STUDENTS COMPLETE WORK.

One hundred and fifty-six students completed the winter course in agriculture at Ohio State University in February. In recognition of the good work which they did during the eight weeks the university presented each member of the class with a certificate in agriculture. Three women completed the course. Practically all the students will return to the farm.

Judge B. F. McCann of Dayton, in addressing the young farmers before they left, urged them to continue their education in every way possible. "Education is the best investment in the world for three reasons," said Judge McCann. "It enables a man to know himself and find out for what he is best fitted; it teaches him to take an interest in the community in which he lives; and it makes him happier because he will learn to see and appreciate the better things of life."

Keep Bowel Movement Regular.

Dr. King's New Life Pills keep stomach, liver and kidneys in healthy condition. Rid the body of poisons and waste. Improve your complexion by flushing the liver and kidneys. "I got more relief from one box of Dr. King's New Life Pills than any medicine I ever tried," says C. E. Hatfield, of Chicago, Ill., 25c. Recommended by F. D. Hall.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation. If your hair is fading, gray, dry, scraggly and thin, mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. TRY SKIN ABSORPTION INSTEAD OF COSMETICS

The constant use of rouge and powder invites a coarsened, roughened condition of the skin. If you've learned this from experience, suppose you quit cosmetics and try the following:

Ask your druggist for an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax and begin using this tonight. Apply cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Keep this up for a week or two. The wax will literally absorb the coarse, colorless or blemished top skin, but so gradually as not to discommodate you at all. Just as gradually the clear, velvety, naturally tinted underskin comes to the surface. And mercurized wax becomes your everlasting friend. For those wrinkles and large pores, make a face bath by dissolving an ounce of powdered suet in a half pint witch hazel. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties, and beneficial results come quickly.

Oh! Joy.

OPENS UP NOSTRILS, CLEARS HEAD, ENDS COLDS OR CATARRH AT ONCE

Instantly Relieves Swollen, Inflamed Nose, Head, Throat—You Breathe Freely—Dull Headache Goes—Nasty Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen, membrane which lines the nose—head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharge and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight, struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear. F. D. Hall, 10 North Side Square, Newark, O.

PRESENTATION OF "THE RIVALS" WAS A SUCCESS

Good Audience Sees Home Talent Company Present Sheridan's Comedy for Library.

The reputation of Miss Florence King as a producer of theatrical productions, will not suffer from the reception given last night at the High School auditorium to her latest effort by a good sized audience. The play presented was pretentious for a local talent company, both from the intrinsic difficulties of the piece and the comparative judgment made inevitable by a remembrance of some of those stars who have headed companies for its production, since the time it was written.

"The Rivals" was written by Richard Brinsley Sheridan. It was instantly popular and keenly appreciated as the most brilliant satire and withering caricature of the social customs of the latter 18th century, that obtained in England, much to the disgust of the Irish dramatist, who felt the comic force of the empty pomposity of the titled class, and the ridiculous pretensions of that society, which now has its counterpart in the abortive gentility affected by the new and idle rich, or the "God Fish Aristocracy."

The company Friday night was composed of some who have been before Newark audiences upon previous occasions, and as a whole, the members seemed to grasp the subtle humor of the situations with rare tact and comprehension. The following was the cast of characters: Sir Anthony Absolute—Mr. Edward Jones. Captain Absolute—Mr. Howard Jones. Faulkland—Mr. Charles W. Miller.

Frank Moran, Who Will Fight Jack Johnson in Paris.

The belief persists among sporting men that Moran will whip Johnson, and he is hailed in a few weeks as the champion of the world. No one undertakes to say that he would have beaten the old Johnson who met Jeffries. But Johnson has degraded since then. There is much doubt if he can get back into his old form. He is already older than was John

L. Sullivan when Corbett beat him in New Orleans. While Moran is no Corbett he is strong, game, and a very hard hitter. He is the best educated heavyweight of the ring known since Queensberry boxing superseded the old London prize ring methods. He is an intelligent, manly honorable fellow, and some persons fear not ugly enough and rough enough to make a champion.

phase of his sweetheart's conduct was one that Mr. Miller's acting made intentionally comical to the audience, and the attorney received a liberal applause for his rendition. Sir Lucius O'Trigger, professional duelist and companionable social parasite, was capably given by Walter Brown, while Harvey Alexander, and David Manning did splendidly as the two serving men Fag and David Manning.

Miss Leonora Phillips looked and acted sweetly the part of Lydia, the young woman for whose favor the entire plot turns, and Miss Clotilde Howard as the petite, sophisticated flirt, acting as maid to Lydia, received merited encomiums on her acting and stage personality.

The proceeds of the play will net a goodly sum for the public library for the benefit of which institution it was given.

Individually the members took the parts assigned them with great credit and rose to every demand for continuity of action in the comedy, that is necessary for a rendition that can be properly appreciated by an audience.

Miss Florence King's characterization of Mrs. Malaprop was one that showed she intelligently comprehended the author's ideal of the scheming, self-important, grandiloquent shell of misdirected womanhood.

J. Howard Jones as Captain Absolute, evidenced at once that he had a treasury and historical equipment that fitted him to present the character with a discriminating justice, to the noticeable contrast that he was intended to make, as the one person in the drama, that arose above the shallowness and insincerity of his surroundings by his soldierly bearing, the instincts of his manhood and the courtliness of a true gentleman.

Harold Kemp had a part, which was made famous by many stars, the latest being the lamented Joseph Jefferson, that of Bob Acres. The personality of the rich young playboy, his innate cowardice, yet withal hearty good nature and true kindness of spirit which made him lovable, were extremely well portrayed by Mr. Kemp, who was indeed one of the best of the evening, and did much to make the play a big artistic success.

The testy, impatient, self-important Sir Anthony, had a most creditable exponent in Mr. Edward Jones, who in act, voice, and gesture gave a fully competent idea of this impotent, yet egotistical character.

Charles W. Miller's part of the faint-hearted lover, delighting to talk of his armory with friends yet super-critical and suspicious of any

TRACK MEETS AT COLUMBUS DRAW CROWDS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, May 23.—Bright sun and cool breezes greeted the white-clad athletes and several thousand spectators at the opening of the fifteenth annual big six track meet of Ohio colleges and the incidental high school meet on Ohio Field here today. In spite of the elimination preliminaries for college athletes, held yesterday and for high school track men this morning, nearly 300 contestants were expected to enter in the events.

Spectators from Ohio colleges poured into Columbus before noon today and when the meet opened at 1:30 this afternoon, more than a dozen different college yells were banded across Ohio Field.

Officials appeared on the field decked in white caps and trousers, blue coats and wearing red badges, instead of somber colored civilian's clothes as in former years.

Both Ohio State and Oberlin supporters were confident of their athletes winning first place, and those who have watched the development of college athletics this year said the race for the top rank would be spirited between the two teams.

Although the schedule of the events had been prepared carefully so that there would be almost no intermission, it was expected the contests would not end until late in the afternoon. The Big Six meet is the occasion for an annual reunion of Ohio State alumni and many returned today for the meet and dinners tonight. Visitors from other schools and high school athletes were entertained yesterday and today in fraternity houses, where in many cases members slept on floors to make room for their guests. Club houses in this student district were decorated with flags and college colors.

How Is the Price of Wool Affected By the Tariff?

One year ago a great hubbub was raised over the allegation that the price of wool was seriously affected by the tariff bill then pending before Congress, which subsequently became the law.

On July 1, 1913, the Advocate exposed the trick of the Boston wool syndicates, which were then buying the farmers' wool at a greatly reduced price and less than its actual value, by making the plea that the reduced price was due to the protective tariff that was then being revised downward, and wool being placed on the free list.

The real trickery of the Boston wool syndicates which the Advocate then exposed, now turns out to be true in a most emphatic degree. Just as the friends of tariff reform then claimed the Boston wool syndicates bought wool in the farmers' hands at such reduced prices that the profits of the syndicates amounted to millions of dollars.

The Advocate's article on July 1, 1913, turns out to be so truthful, that we herewith reproduce it, which is as follows:

"TRICK OF THE BOSTON WOOL SYNDICATE."

"There are indications that the wool growers of Ohio and other Western States are being or have been pretty badly buncoed by the Boston syndicates in control of the American wool market. The tariff bill has afforded the Boston manipulators the pre-requisite pretext for bearing down the price until the bulk of the product in the hands of the numerous flock masters of the Middle West could be bought up. This being largely accomplished, the Boston syndicate, in close touch with London, the world's greatest wool market, is preparing to put up the price of the product and it now promises to be several cents higher on the pound.

The price of wool should be regulated in the same manner as that of any other great staple—that of supply and demand.

American farmers have never gotten for their wool the market price in Boston plus the tariff, and during all the years of this country's tariff policy the average price of wool has been greater in London than in Boston.

For years the absolute control of prices by the Boston Wool syndicates has been a disgrace to American commercial intelligence.

A few months of actual experience may greatly enlighten the American farmer on this vital question as to whether the tariff has been or can be a real benefit to him instead of a grand scheme of deception by the high protection trusts. Let time do the enlightenment."

The test of time is here and is certainly doing the enlightenment regarding the deception of the high protection trusts. Farmers who were induced one year ago to sell their wool as low as 18 to 20 cents, are now offered for the same quality of wool as high as 27 cents per pound.

A number of active buyers have made offers of 25½ cents to farmers, with requests not to sell until they are seen again. Even farmers who have been offered 27 cents per pound for their wool, have been requested by the buyers not to sell until they are seen again. So anxious are many of the buyers to purchase wool, that farmers are frequently urged to make sale of their wool before the sheep have been clipped. The activity of wool buyers in the interest of the Boston syndicates shows clearly the extent of the demand for wool the present season and also shows the falsity of all the preaching by the Boston syndicate trusts of a year ago when they were pressing down the price of wool below its actual value on the tariff howl that they then raised. There should be no political influences to affect business transactions pertaining to the purchase or sale of a staple of the character of wool, and the political buncombe that has been so much in evidence in recent years is now likely to be greatly discredited.

Farmers of Licking county are today receiving offers for their wool of prices that average 20 per cent. higher than what they received last year for the same quality of the staple, and the outlook at the present time is that there will be still a greater increase in prices of wool in the near future.

Supply and demand in the world's great markets are what regulates the price of a great staple like wool, and all this political buncombe about the benefits of a high protective tariff will be absolutely discredited in the future.

On Second Thought

The thin man has a little better chance than a fat one. The broader the target the greater the probability that the woman who is shooting at it will hit it.

The rule in travel is that if the view is worth seeing a string of freight cars will obscure it.

When a boy wears long curls, that is an indication of a foolish mother abetted by a doting father.

No man attracts much attention when booked in competition with a baby.

Woman also is superior to man in the respect that she can carry on a conversation over the telephone.

The rule is that if an amateur is good enough to be a professional he becomes one.

When a woman desires to be particularly polite she refers to the preacher as "our pastor."

Probably the most difficult feat to confront the average man is that of giving a direct answer to a simple question.

A man looks for a place to sit down, a woman for a mirror.

The Carpenter.

With shining weapons newly sharpened, the carpenter goes forth to carpent. No work of his is e'er a fizzle, but every product of his chisel, and of his plane and saw and measure, increases human peace and pleasure. Oh, where would be your vine-clad cottage, in which you hit the eggs and potage; and where would be your stately palace, where you drink grape juice from a chalice; where would be the school and college imparting forty kinds of knowledge, but for the man whose saw and hammer pick up all day so glad a clamor? The man who nails the boards and shingles deserves all praise, in prose and jingles; he builds the homes in which we tarry, in which we dance and sing and marry. He builds the church wherein the pastor exclaims the doctrines of the Master, our world-worn spirits elevating; he builds the rinks where we go skating; he builds the bleachers where we gather, to see the game, the whole blamed slather; and when we're done with this world's muddle, he builds the box in which we cuddle. The carpenter, in all the ages, has done far more than hards or sages to make the world a better planet than 'twas when Eve and Adam ran it. He builds the homes, while t'other fellows just sit around and work he bellows.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition in which it will be easy for you to contract disease if exposed to it.

If the Republican and Progressive, destructive and discouraging, and not constructive and encouraging. Both the foreign and domestic policies have been vacillating and un-American; it has cared for the interests of everybody except the American citizen. I feel sure that the American people will show their disapproval this fall by electing Republicans to congress in many districts now represented by Democrats."

William H. Hinebaugh, representative from Illinois, chairman of the Progressive congressional campaign committee, said this of the situation:

"I believe the people are disappointed with the Democratic administration, both legislative and executive. It has afforded none of the benefits promised, and has certainly wrought much of the damage feared. It has injured agriculture everywhere, and stagnated all productive and industrial activity. Hundreds of Progressive will be elected to legislative and county offices throughout the nation, and our organization will then build from the bottom upward. Since 1910 the Republican party has lost 125 members of the lower house of congress. It is conceded by all who know the facts that the Republicans are bound to lose five senators in the coming election from the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Kansas, and California. A political revolution is on, and revolutions never go backward."

Frank E. Doremus, representative from Michigan, chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, has this to say:

"The revision of the tariff, the new banking and currency law, the income tax, the development and extension of the parcel post, and

They will in the coming election return a Democratic congress to support him in his constructive policies of progress and reform. They will not elect a Republican congress that for two years would only embarrass, harass, and antagonize him in the great work of restoring this government to the people."

Tom Hampton Frank Faringer
Jack Harry Benham

TOM HAMPTON and John Gray were partners in a legal firm. Each lived happily in his own home, Gray with his young wife and his little daughter, May, a child of 4 years of age, and Hampton with his small son, Jack. As a rule, they got on very amicably in their business relations, though Hampton was inclined to be irascible and faultfinding. Gray always smothered his indignation and maintained smooth relations with his partner.

One day there came a crisis. Hampton plunged into his partner's office, angrily storming about some small detail of the business. The two men engaged in a serious quarrel. After Hampton went out Gray followed, went deliberately to his partner's home, concealed himself until the man arrived, and killed him with a sharp dagger. Then he hurried back to his office, and was there to the amazed sorrow when the news of the tragedy was brought to him.

Years passed and Gray continued profitably in the law business, his daughter growing into a beautiful young woman. One day she was caught from under a passing automobile by a handsome young stranger, who took her to her home. He proved to be Jack Hampton, son of Gray's former partner. He was a pleasant, attractive fellow, whom May had long since lovingly fell in love with the girl. Gray made him welcome in his home for his daughter's sake, though he found it an exceedingly trying situation. After a time the young people became engaged, and May's father acquiesced in the matter, apparently willingly, but really regretfully.

The engagement announcement was to be made at a dinner party to which were bidden many friends. At the close of the feast, Gray arose to make a speech, but in the midst of his panegyric on his future son-in-law he collapsed and had to be carried to his room. Confusion ruled and finally the guests departed.

Gray was put to bed by his physician and reviving treatments tried. He was very ill and suffered acutely, unable to rest. Finally he managed to get at writing materials and dictated a note of confession. The exertion overcame him, however, and he had to give it up. The need for confession drove him on until he whispered the story of his crime to his physician and then fell back in the last sleep.

The doctor was now in a trying position. He gave it serious thought, weighing the man's crime and his desire for confession against the devoted love of the young people. He saw how the latter was the force of greater value and he dreaded the shock the knowledge would cause, the trying situation it would be certain to arouse. So he took the partly written confession and destroyed it. Knowledge of the crime died with its perpetrator and cast no shadow on the future.

Miss Stella Razeto

Miss Stella Razeto, an experienced actress, was born in San Diego, Cal., and was educated at the Girls' High school in San Francisco. She began her stage work immediately with a stock company, from which she was taken by Florence Roberts to Honolulu, where she appeared for three seasons. After a season of touring the country she became worn out from the strain of the work and gave it up for a time, then went into plain service. She is now one of the Kinemascope people's leading women in their California company.

ful in their barbaric garb. The court of the king and the camp of the gypsies contribute scenic glory equally to the luxurious whole.

The Princess Romana, played by Miss Stella Razeto, was a lovely and a spoiled young woman. So when she came to the court and embassy from an unknown prince seeking her hand in marriage, the young lady flouted the idea. When she saw her royal father persisted in bestowing her upon her royal wooer, she took the administration of affairs into her own hands, and just ran away, in all the glory of her trailing white satin gown. Arriving at a gypsy camp she discarded the gown for a costly gypsy costume and danced and played and sang with her adopted family as merrily as any maid to the manner born.

The prince, instead of resenting the young lady's treatment of his proposal, continued to wait her, and asked the king for permission to find her. He set out on his search, located her in the gypsy camp, and enrolled himself among the brothers of the wild life, donning a gay, silken striped cloak, that made him look even more picturesque than his own royal garments. Then he met the princess and wandered with her through the woods, twanging an odd little harp, twining wild flowers, and whispering poetic gypsies in her ears. This was romance, such as princesses had never known before, and Romana responded warmly to the youth's endearments. In the high tide of their love, they were rudely interrupted, however.

The king, unaware of the youth's success, and having no time anyway for such prolonged dallying at love making, dispatched soldiers to seek the girl and the prince. The soldiers arrived at the inopportune moment when they had just plighted their truth and hailed them back to court. The princess was sent weeping to her room, where the ladies, in lovely costumes, hovered sympathetically around her while she fumed at the turn of events. In the throne room, however, the gypsy soon made known his princesship and the king rejoiced heartily, sending to the princess a command to be ready for her wedding at 3 o'clock.

The princess wept the more, but her ladies took off her wild gypsy dress and put her prettily into a satin gown with a regal ermine train. Just then came a note from her gypsy lover bidding her prepare for the wedding from which he would rescue her. Smilingly, then, she led the way down the great stairs where she met her father and a gorgeous young man, resplendent in a white, gold lace trimmed uniform. When he attempted to take her in his arms she repelled him and he had to produce the gypsy cloak before she knew that her lover and her prince were one. Then she was very happy, indeed, and the wedding was celebrated right merrily.

"The Gringo."

Kay-Bee.

The southern California mining company offers the picturesque setting for this rather hectic emotional composition in which a priest's honor is destroyed by the baleful plottings of a pair of rogues. The priest, who presumed to tame one of his flock, Ignacia Reyes, against a nominal price a mine he believed to be very valuable, aroused the hatred of the would-be buyer, Simpson, an American of doubtful precedents. Unable to obtain the mine through his own efforts and cunning, he enlisted his mistress, a slitheringly alluring young woman who could make no progress with Reyes either.

The two concluded that the only way to gain their ends was to undermine the priest's confidence in the priest. Madge, one day, disguised as a boy, fainted opportunely across the priest's pathway and was taken to his cell by the good padre, who administered restoratives, then hurried off to mass.

When the people were returning from church they were astonished beyond measure to perceive a jaunty young woman coming out of the priest's cell. Madge had recovered from her faint very speedily and slipped through the window to her Simpson, in time to achieve this damning impression. The good people raised their devout hands in horror and turned Father Bernard away from the monastery instantly.

That evening fate played another card for the father. Carmen, affianced to Reyes, watched his flitting attentions to the señorita Madge, and guided by the devil of jealousy planned a knife into that lady's fair person, hurting her grievously. She was injured so severely, in fact, that nothing could be done for her since Father Bernard, their master of medicine, was gone. That being the situation, Father Bernard must be found, and a messenger was sent after him in hot haste. The priest answered the appeal, the man confessed the guilty plot and promised to leave the country if he would but save the woman. The priest healed the knife wound and was restored to his position in the Granville, May 23.—Prof. and Mrs. I. S. Kull entertained most delightfully thirty guests at their charming home in the Woods bungalow in the Shepards Park Addition on Friday afternoon. The event was planned to honor Miss Elizabeth M. Benedict, whose engagement was recently announced. Spring flowers adorned the home, and it was really a May day fete. During the afternoon a large basket covered with flowers and foliage was left at the door for Miss Benedict and it contained many beautiful gifts which the bride-to-be opened and read the verse on the card attached to each gift. The hostess was assisted by Miss Marian Rose.

A delightful little afternoon tea is being given this afternoon by Miss Minna E. Penney at her apartments in Broadway. Miss Penney is entertaining out of compliment to two brides-to-be, Miss Elizabeth Benedict and Miss Marian Rose. Flowers and festoons of greenery adorn the rooms.

A large audience of the invited friends of the students attended the pupils' recital on Friday evening. The program was charmingly varied and rendition was delightful.

The Art Embroidery club met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Guy Lentz in Curtis avenue. The afternoon was spent in needle work after which a delicious luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, June 3 at the home of Mrs. Rector in Hanover. The members are requested to meet at the interurban station to take the 10:05 a. m. car.

The Corticello club was delightfully entertained on Wednesday afternoon at her home in Church street. After an hour of busy needle work a two course luncheon was served by the hostess, Mrs. DeFrance and Mrs. Whitehead were club guests.

Mrs. J. P. Lamb was hostess to the members of the Division club Wednesday at her home in Madison View farm east of the city. The early morning hours were given over to business of the club and reorganizing. At 12 o'clock a course luncheon was served to about thirty members and guests, after which a progressive game was participated in by the club members. Mrs. G. M. Jones and Mrs. W. G. Miller were the fortunate contestants. Punch was dispensed in the dining room during the afternoon.

On Tuesday evening several of Mrs. Nannie Bryson's friends called at her home on Curtis avenue and presented her with a huge bouquet of carnations and other useful gifts to remind her she had reached her eightieth birthday. Mrs. Bryson is a well-known younger. Vases filled with clusters of Bridalwreath and carnations decorated each room. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. Will Austin, Mrs. Ben Brown, Mrs. and Mrs. J. C. Wray, Mrs. Nettie Swerth, Mrs. Will Hunt, Mrs. Odell, Mrs. Jack Sullivan, Mrs. Aron Hickey and her three nieces, Misses Mary and Lucile and Vernice Abbott, Miss Gertrude Leach and her mother, Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Archie Scanlon, Mr. J. W. Wray, Mrs. Whitlen, Little Mary Margaret Kinnetzer, Cora Mae White, Miss Gertrude Austin, Floyd Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White of Chicago.

Miss Mildred Robe entertained with a dinner of pretty appointments at her home in Woods avenue on Friday evening. Miss Robe entertained out of compliment to Miss Mikenhouse from Dayton.

Mrs. W. J. Marshall entertained a few boys on Friday evening at her home, honoring the thirteenth birthday anniversary of her son Swisher D. Marshall. The evening was informally spent and luncheon was served to John Spencer, Clifford Sturgeon, Carol and Lawrence Bain, Carlos Allen, Edwin Norman and Lawrence Fairall.

Mrs. William Shamp entertained the members of the Harmonious club at her home in East Main street on the club day. A dainty luncheon was served the members and guest Mrs. Charles Back. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Hartshorn in the Granville road on June 2.

The members of the Country club are entertaining this evening with another of the informal dances which have been enjoyed at the club house on Saturday evening for several weeks past.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Wife With the Happy Habit.

"I missed you while you were away," said the Woman From Across the Street.

"Did you?" replied the Neighbor, wondering if she has been missed because the Woman From Across the Street had no other place to borrow.

"Did you have a good time?"

"Fine. The friend I was visiting has such a happy home, it is a delight to be there."

"She's fortunate," sighed the Woman From Across the Street. "I suppose she is well off."

"No. She lives very simply. Her husband gets a very modest salary. But she has the happy habit."

"I suppose that's the 'glad game' everybody's talking about. But I think that is all nonsense. What's the use of pretending you're glad, when you know all the time there's nothing to be glad about?"

"No, she's not pretending to be glad; though I guess the happy habit is a near kin to the glad game. But she is just cheerful and good-natured and cordial most of the time, and her home reflects this warmth and heartiness, and everybody in it just beams. And when you are there you catch the spirit and can't help being happy, too. I think her husband is a very fortunate man."

"I guess if he didn't provide the wherewithal to keep the house running, she wouldn't be so happy."

"Yes, she would. She'd make the best of whatever she had. I tell you a woman with the happy habit is a great acquisition. It's like dwelling in sunshine. And where there is sunshine there can't be gloom. The children just bask in the happiness she radiates. It's a great thing for a home. I have another friend who is just the opposite, and so I have a good opportunity to compare the two kinds of home atmosphere. This other friend is cold, reserved, caustic. She gives you a chilly handshake and a reserved smile. She is always saying sharp cutting things that pierce like a winter wind. And although her home is comfortably warmed with steam heat, to go into it is like entering a vault. I would as lief sit alongside an iceberg as spend much time with her. To live with her must be like dwelling under the dank dripping of a gray February fog. You can picture for yourself the difference in those two homes, just because the mistress of one has the happy habit and the mistress of the other hasn't. Yet this second woman in other ways is a very estimable woman."

"Why hasn't she the happy habit?" asked the Woman From Across the Street, eyeing her neighbor a bit curiously, and wondering to herself if she were being asked in a roundabout fashion to wear a shoe.

"Because she gives up her moods, I think," replied the Neighbor, "and is always thinking of herself. The woman with the happy habit doesn't believe in yielding to all the whims that may possess her. She is always thinking of her family rather than of herself, and of how she can make the home bright and comfortable for them. If I were a man, looking for a wife, seems to me the happy habit would be one of the essential requirements."

"Seems to me the happy habit is just as essential for the husband as for the wife," sighed the Woman From Across the Street.

"It is. But if the wife has it, the husband is soon apt to acquire it. In fact, it is a lesson that soon leaves the whole family life, and many a dull cheerless home would become radiant with warmth and joy, if the wife would only acquire the happy habit."

ONE TO FIFTEEN YEARS DEALT TO QUINCY SUTLEY

O'Shaughnessy Released After Telling of Robbery of Aged Benefactor.

Quincy Sutley, indicted jointly with Lee O'Shaughnessy, for highway robbery, was found guilty by a common pleas jury and an entry-ordering execution of a sentence from one to fifteen years in the Ohio penitentiary was made Saturday on order of Judge Fulton. O'Shaughnessy turned state's evidence, accusing Sutley of complicity with him in the crime, and the indictment against the informer was nolleived by consent of Prosecutor J. Howard Jones.

The state charged that O'Shaughnessy and Sutley on the night of January 28 last, beat into insensibility and robbed Samuel Summer, aged 71 years, a B. and O. crossing watchman at Sixth street and the B. and O. railroad. It was shown that the pair was frequent visitors to Summer's watch shanty and on the afternoon preceding the night of the crime they had learned that Summer received his pay as watchman. They asked him for a time that night to get some sandwiches, saying they were hungry, and using this pretext to ascertain for a certainty that he had money on his person. He gave them the time. When he started home that night they followed him to the Valandigham street bridge where they assaulted him and robbed him of $4.50.

Police Captain Swank trailed them to a number of Ohio towns and finally located them in Portsmouth, where they were arrested and returned here.

Granted Continuance.
In the case of the State of Ohio vs. George E. Howell, which had been assigned for trial next Wednesday, a continuance was granted on affidavit of the defendant's counsel to the effect that Thos. Wickham, a material witness, cannot reach here on the date set for trial.

WIVES OF MINERS TELL STORY OF THE COLORADO STRIKE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 23.—Another story of the disasters of the Colorado mine strike was told today to Senators Kern, Martine and Kenyon by wives of the miners, who saw the battle of Ludlow between the militia and miners when tents of strikers were burned and lives were lost. The testimony was not taken formally and in addition to their own statements the women exhibited photographs.

"I saw men in uniform dip a brush in buckets and wash something on the tents. I think it was oil," Mrs. Pearl Jollie told the senators.

"I did not see the men put oil on tents," said Mrs. M. H. Thomas, another miner's wife, "but I did see men in uniform touch fire to the tents."

Senator Kern said that since a house committee already had investigated the strike there was little the senate could do. Senator Martine may relate the testimony of the women to the senate.

MAN'S BODY WAS FOUND ON PILOT; SHOWS ACCIDENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, May 23.—Passengers and attendants in the Lasalle street station were startled early today when the last mail train of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad came into the station with the body of a man jammed upon the pilot. Several persons fainted. Until then neither the fireman nor the engineer knew the train had struck anything.

A notebook found on the body contained the name Nicholas Geisen, Westville, Ind. Scraps of harness and portions of a buggy were tangled in the pilot indicating that the man had been struck while driving across the tracks.

Madame Isebell's Regime
for the Thin Woman

LESSON XIII—PART II.

Get at least eight hours' sleep every night in a well aired room. On awaking sip slowly a glass of hot milk or cup of chocolate. Throw the windows wide open and go through the breathing exercises in Lesson X. Follow these by the wand exercises in part II of this lesson. Bathe and dress as you will have a good appetite for breakfast.

Have a Good Breakfast.

For breakfast eat all that appetite demands, but choose food easily digested. Take no fried food, hot cakes or strong tea or coffee. Fruit, cereals and cream, eggs, bacon and buttered toast make a nourishing and not too heavy meal. Hot rolls, graham muffins, stewed fruit, creamed potatoes, creamed flaked fish, broiled fish are all suitable breakfast dishes.

No matter what the weather or your occupation, spend a part of the morning out of doors. Make each part of the day the busiest. Lunch at one o'clock should be light, but nourishing. Soup, preferably one made with cream, a vegetable with cream or butter sauce, light dessert of stewed fruit or custard and a glass of milk make a satisfying lunch.

I should add here that milk should not be drunk with a meal that includes meat. For this reason it is suitable for lunch, but not for dinner.

After lunch lie down for an hour and sleep if possible. With a little practice sleep will come. Two hours before dinner take a glass of hot milk, malted milk or chocolate with a few biscuits or light cakes. Follow this with a walk or some form of exercise.

The Important Meal of the Day.

Dinner should be the important meal of the day; if practical, have it served in courses, in pleasant company and eat slowly. Dinner should include soup, if one likes it, chicken or a little grilled or roasted meat, several vegetables, salad with olive oil dressing, pudding or fruit. The only beverage is cool (not iced) pure water, but the meal may close with a small cup of black coffee if this does not induce sleeplessness.

Before going to sleep sip a glass of milk with a few biscuits. This regime gives you nourishment five times a day. Do not eat more often.

We Will Do It On Monthly

Payments.

You are taking no risk in wiring your home for the comfort, convenience and economy of electricity, for you are going to do it some day. Why not while the price is cheap. The payments are so small you will never miss the money. It will enhance the value of your property many times the cost. Electric lights in your home will save for you in decorations alone, almost enough each year to pay for the wiring.

THE ELECTRIC IRON is a comfort that every woman should enjoy during the hot weather.

It is worth all it will cost to wire your home to have an electric washer wash and wring your clothes. There are a great many other electrical labor saving devices, that changes domestic drudgery into pleasure.

Count the rooms in your house and the following schedule will tell you what the cost will be to wire your home.

Only a small cash payment is required and you can pay the balance in seven small monthly payments.

We guarantee the material and workmanship to be the best.

It is not a hard proposition to wire an old house. The work can be done in a day or two, and you would scarcely know the workman was in the house.

The wiring will be concealed. Drop-cords, sockets and Mazda lamps will be furnished at the following prices:

HOUSES OF	CASH PAYMENT	MONTHLY PAYMENT	TOTAL CASH
3 ROOMS	$2.16	$1.23	$10.80
4 ROOMS	$2.63	$1.50	$13.15
5 ROOMS	$3.08	$1.76	$15.40
6 ROOMS	$3.54	$2.03	$17.70
7 ROOMS	$3.96	$2.36	$19.80
8 ROOMS	$4.42	$2.53	$22.10
9 ROOMS	$4.88	$2.79	$24.40
10 ROOMS	$5.28	$3.00	$26.40
11 ROOMS	$5.68	$3.25	$28.40
12 ROOMS	$6.08	$3.48	$30.40

Drawing Against Savings

Is often necessary—in fact, that is one of the prime purposes of saving—to provide a fund on which to draw when a real need arises.

But every saver should make it a rule not to touch his savings if he can by any reasonable means avoid it.

The savings account that is drawn on for every passing whim or to gratify a needless extravagance cannot respond adequately when a real and serious need arises.

Chicago, May 23.—Wheat: developed some strength today on account of the failure of predicted rain in some of the winter wheat states. There was a feeling too on the part of many traders that 1-2 cents break from the high point of Wednesday was enough for the present at least. Pit offerings were much smaller than on yesterday. The market opened a shade to 3-8 1-2 higher, and made a further gain before beginning to react.
Further rains in Argentina causing damage and delay to shippers gave the corn market a lift. May delivery went straight up to the long looked for goal, 70 a bushel. After starting 1-8 to 1-2 higher, prices continued to rise.
Dry weather still worried the oats crowd. Commission buying was a good deal more active than usual.
Provisions tended to ease off with hogs. Shorts furnished about the only demand.

IF YOUR SKIN ITCHES, JUST USE RESINOL

The moment that Resinol Ointment touches itching skin, the itching stops and healing begins. That is why doctors have prescribed it successfully for nineteen years in even the severest cases of eczema, tetter, ringworm, rashes and other tormenting, unsightly skin eruptions. Aided by warm baths with Resinol Soap, Resinol Ointment restores the skin to perfect health and comfort, quickly, easily and at little cost. You need never hesitate to use Resinol. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin—even of a tiny baby. No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval. All druggists sell Resinol Ointment (50c. and $1.00), and Resinol Soap (25c.). For trial free, write to Dept. KK, Resinol Baltimore, Md. Avoid substitutes by calling for "Resinol" by name. Unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer worthless imitations.

WOMAN WANTS TO HELP OTHERS

By Telling How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Miami, Okla. — "I had a female trouble and weakness, that annoyed me continually. I tried doctors and all kinds of medicine for several years but was not cured until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I hope my testimonial will help other suffering women to try your wonderful medicine." — Mrs. MARY R. MILLER, Box 453, Miami, Okla.

Another Woman who has Found Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lindsborg, Kansas. — "Some years ago I suffered with terrible pains in my side which I thought were inflammation, also with a bearing down pain, backache, and I was at times awfully nervous. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now enjoying good health. I will be glad to recommend your medicine to any woman suffering with female trouble and you may publish this letter." — Mrs. A. L. SMITH, R. No. 3, Box 60, Lindsborg, Kansas.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Today's Birthday Party

Crimea, the scene of the European war of 1854, when England, France and Turkey combined against Russia, was the birthplace thirty-five years ago today of one of the most popular of modern actresses, Mme. Alla Nazimova. It was in the little village of Yalta on the Black Sea, that frontier shore of the Black Sea, that Alla Nazimova gave her true Russian name—first saw the light. Her childhood was spent in Geneva, Switzerland, where she received her early education and learned to play the violin. At the age of twelve she returned to Russia, and it was in her native village that she made her first public appearance as a violinist. While in Switzerland the girl had mastered French and German, and upon returning to her native land she soon became proficient in the Russian tongue. At thirteen she entered the conservatoire at Odessa, to take up the study of the violin. She had great natural ability as a violinist, and might have become famous as a musician had she adhered to her early ambition. At Odessa she soon determined to become an actress, and took up the dramatic course, which she completed in three years, winning the gold medal, and, what was of greater worth, the praise and approval of Stanislavsky, the celebrated Russian stage director.

She was only seventeen when she became leading woman of a stock company at Kholm, in northern Russia and during the first season of the stage she played nearly 200 different star roles in productions ranging from the heaviest tragedy to the frothiest comedy. It was her hard work, but excellent training. For several years she continued to play in stock at Kholm, in southern Russia and Vilna, Poland, and in 1903 she made her first metropolitan appearance in St. Petersburg. In the Russian capital she played Camille, Zaza, Tribby, Hedda Gabler, and other stellar parts; and with such success that she was hailed by the critics as one of the greatest of Russian actresses.

Except for her devotion to principle, Mme. Nazimova might never have been known outside of Russia. Ten years ago she planned to produce in St. Petersburg a play entitled, "The Chosen People," but the racial views it expressed were objectionable to the censors of the Czar's government. With Paul Orloff, a distinguished Russian actor, Mme. Nazimova went to Berlin to produce the play. The beautiful actress was the sensation of the German capital, and she met with such success that she was engaged for a London season, during which she produced not only "The Chosen People," but also several realistic plays by Russian authors.

Following her success in London, Mme. Nazimova was induced to visit New York. Her success in the American metropolis was even greater than she had achieved in London. In May of 1906 she contracted to play "Hedda Gabler" in English at a New York playhouse for the following November. When she entered into the contract her stock of English was limited to a dozen words, but by November she spoke the language with greater precision and fluency than most Americans and Englishmen. Since then Mme. Nazimova has scored one triumph after another, and has won a wide popularity throughout America. The eminent actress will celebrate her birthday in Europe. Off the stage she is Mrs. Charles E. Bryant. She spends the summer vacations at a beautiful little cottage in the south of England.

Mrs. Mary E. White of Granville street is spending several weeks in Philo visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hall and other relatives.

The Bigger Work Of The Present

The Universe was built for a purpose; every purpose has a plan; every plan a development; development means progression.

In the natural world God moves in silence and with equal steps; He never stops to shout His triumphs, nor loiters in the chagrin of fatigue.

In planning for human advancement it is necessary to keep in tune with the infinite, to step steadily and carefully forward each day and to strive for betterment all the time.

Every community needs progress — every citizen needs to advance and to help in the advance; to understand the purpose and loyally help in forwarding it.

Naturally moral development centers around the churches.

The moralist is lonesome if he is not associated with those who are organized in church work.

The advantage of organization is apparent to those who have the best good of the community at heart.

The purpose of the various organizations is the same, the ultimate result sought is for better conditions locally, leading to better conditions in the world at large.

Newspapers And the Pulpit

NEED VISION OF SERVICE.

Henry J. Allen of Wichita Beacon Says Papers Are Improving.

HENRY J. ALLEN, of Wichita, Kan., says that the newspaper is a good thing to own for the purpose of making money and having something to do in life with which to keep busy.

The newspaper preaches daily to many thousands, and in the audience are Presbyterians, Methodists, Unitarians, Christian Scientists, Catholics and Mormons and representatives of every shade of creed and belief. The preacher preaches twice a week to some hundreds, and he must also visit them in sickness and in death and mingle with their social life and live on terms of close brotherly and sympathetic interest. When he preaches he preaches to Presbyterians or Methodists or Baptists or whatever creed his church represents. There is no problem in his mind as to what his orthodox duty really is. He has fewer temptations than the editor has to preach at a class or build himself a special following.

His clear call is to serve Christ, and the ages have built him a discipline of service. His marching orders are rather clear.

The editor had to begin without any program. No martyrs had ever gone to the stake for his cause. His business was not even dignified as a profession. The newspaper began in political chaos with no established standards, and it soon caught all of the faults of the age. Newspapers that ten years ago did not seek to introduce moral scrutiny into their responsibility for their advertising columns are now cleaning up, cutting out liquor advertisements, filthy medical advertisements and seeking to make their advertising columns, their news columns and their editorial columns co-ordinate in an effort at clean journalism.

The future benefit of this effort cannot be weighed. A clean press and a clean pulpit are traveling in the same direction, but the field of the press is naturally much larger. Its obligation to serve high civilization is just as sacred as the obligation of the pulpit.

Today We Celebrate

While Argentine, Brazil and Chile are intervening to settle North American troubles, one of their South American neighbors is in the throes of a revolution which has continued for well over two years. During that period conditions in the republic of Ecuador have been very similar to those in Mexico, and it is likely that Ecuadorians will be too busy "revoluting" to celebrate their country's independence day tomorrow.

The twenty-fourth day of May is the great national holiday of Ecuador. It commemorates the battle of Fichincha, fought on May 24, 1822, when the victory of the army led by that prince of South American patriots, General Antonio Jose de Sucre, resulted in driving the Spaniards from the country and the establishment of an independent government after the downfall in 1830 of Simon Bolivar's Greater Colombian republic, of which Ecuador was a part. After freeing Ecuador, Sucre joined Bolivar and San Martin in the task of freeing Peru and Bolivia, and achieved the decisive victories in both countries. Sucre became the first president of Bolivia and its capital was named after him.

Ecuador has been seething with rebellion ever since the uprising which followed the death of President Emilio Estrada, in December, 1911. The army seized the government and proclaimed General Pedro Montero president. Montero was a despot and a tyrant, and after a month of his arbitrary dictatorship a mob was raised in Guayaquil which marched against the president, captured him, riddled his body with bullets, and then dragged the bleeding body through the streets, after which the corpse was beheaded and burned. His associates in the government were also taken prisoners, and five of them were lynched by a mob which stormed the prison where they were confined. Another army officer, General Julio Andrade, then sought to gain control, and shared the fate of his predecessor.

In 1912 an election was held, and General Leonidas Plaza, an ex-president, was returned to power. Many of the troops who had served under Montero and Andrade fled to the northern state of Esmeraldas, a mountainous country almost cut off from the remainder of the republic. There they organized a revolution against President Plaza, led by Gen. Carlos Concha and General Jorge Martinez. His associates in the government were also taken prisoners, and five of them were lynched by a mob which stormed the prison where they were confined. Another army officer, General Julio Andrade, then sought to gain control, and shared the fate of his predecessor.

Ecuador was originally inhabited by the Caras, whose kingdom of Quitu was very similar in political and social institutions to the empire of the Incas in Peru. After the Spaniards under Pizarro had conquered the Incas they marched against the Caras, and soon annexed that country to the Spanish dominions. Ecuador was a part of the vice-royalty of Peru when the first revolution against Spanish authority was inaugurated in 1810. Twelve years passed before Sucre overwhelmed the Spaniards and drove them out of the land which they had held for nearly three centuries. Under the Ecuadorian constitution the president is elected for four years, and cannot succeed himself except after a lapse of two terms.

First Things

The first appearance of the city of Victoria B. C., in the pages of history was as the gathering place of the Songhees, who assembled on the site of the future palatial municipality to celebrate their tribal feasts. Victoria became the capital of the colony of British Columbia on May 24, 1868, and of the Province when it entered the Dominion in 1871. The Indian name of the place was Camosun, and this name was adopted by the adventurers of the Hudson's Bay company who made it their sunset post. The first English settlement on Vancouver's Island was made in 1781. The Spaniards seized the island in 1789 but it was soon restored to Britain by Captain Vancouver, whose name was given to the island. The modern city of Victoria was founded in 1857, and it early attained some importance through the discovery of gold on the neighboring mainland. After the gold rush subsided Victoria became a sleepy old English town, but in the last decade it has awakened to its commercial possibilities and has developed into one of the most prosperous and progressive cities of western Canada.

Each individual has his part to play in the development of community standards.

Each community has its part in the enlarging and improving of the opportunities for doing good and being good.

To be associated in the great work of human development, physical, moral and spiritual, is indeed an ideal opportunity.

By earnest co-operation, intelligent effort, conscientious determination, the banner of social progress is carried forward, onward and upward.

Now, the church organizations of Newark have been trying earnestly to stimulate better things.

There are those who have been holding back; who have failed to help because they could not agree with those who were doing the work.

Newark's churches are and should be filled with men of might; all battling nobly for the right; it is time every individual should, "in honor preferring one another," stand shoulder to shoulder, bound to work and determined to win.

It is only possible to accomplish great things where there is harmony and co-operation.

Get into line N-O-W! The church organizations need Y-O-U! Get into line.

The most discussed number given so far on the lecture course was the concert given in the West Main street M. E. church last evening. Each number given was the work of an artist and was very pleasing to the large audience present.

Mr. A. H. Marple, grocer of North Fourth street, who has been confined to his home for several weeks by serious illness, was removed to the Sanitarium this morning in Boller & Bradley's ambulance, where he will take treatment under the care of Dr. P. H. Cosner.

Gospel Team Here.
The Gospel Team, of Columbus, consisting of five Billy Sunday converts, will hold three meetings in the First M. P. church, of which Rev. George G. Shurtz is pastor, this week. The team is composed of Messrs. Milton J. Mench, Harry C. Such, Charles B. Putt, Herman L. Beckett and U. G. Drake. O. G. Crowe, formerly of Newark, will appear as soloist.

Over 15,000 Jovians.
Next Tuesday Cleveland Jovians will hold their initiation. As the ceremony takes place during the Electrical Exposition it is expected that there will be several hundred in attendance. The Jovian order is composed of electrical men. During a recent meeting in Dayton Gov. Cox was admitted to the order. There are now 15,000 members and the order is gaining rapidly. The Cleveland Electrical Show continues until May 30.

To Visit Ireland.
Mr. and Mrs. William Sherrard of North avenue, will leave Saturday, June 6, on the Anchor line from New York City for Ireland, where they expect to spend two months with the former's relatives, during which time they will visit all the points of interest in that picturesque country. Mr. Sherrard is a B. & O. passenger engineer and one of the most popular men on the road. He will have the best wishes of all his many friends for a pleasant voyage. It will be his first visit back to the old home in fourteen years. Two of his brothers and three sisters are still living in the old homestead and it is needless to state that he anticipates a delightful time.

Niagara Falls had not been officially outlined to him before his arrival. Some of Carranza's advisers, it was believed, were not entirely agreed over the proposition of representation at Niagara Falls. The point was taken by a few of them that the constitutionalists might better push their military campaign southward and hold aloof from the negotiations so as to avoid any possible chance to diplomatic complications. Others shared the view of the administration that Carranza should have representation, at least to give information of the northern faction's policies to the mediators. Secretary Bryan, John Lind and Charles A. Douglas, the latter representing the constitutionalists agency, had a long conference at the state department after which Mr. Bryan went to the White House. None of the men would reveal the subject of their conference.

WATER SUPPLY OF MAZATLAN IS RUNNING SHORT

(Associated Press Telegram)
On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mex., May 23.—(By wireless to San Diego, Calif., May 23.)—Mazatlan's water supply will last only 15 more days, and it is believed the constitutionalists besieging the city soon will be in possession.
Reported degradations by bandits on a German colony near Miranar caused the German cruiser Nuremberg to leave Mazatlan for that port. At other west coast cities all is quiet.
Since the arrival of General Obregon, the constitutionalist commander, at the recently occupied city of Tepic, fewer cruelties to federal prisoners are being practiced. General Buena has sent reinforcements to the constitutionalist garrison at San Blas.
It is reported that an Englishman named F. Green was murdered by bandits near San Marcos. Several Americans reside in that vicinity.

POLITICS DO NOT INTEREST HIM "JUST NOW"

Colonel Roosevelt Declines to Express Views Regarding Progressive Organization.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 23.—"I'm trying to keep out of politics as much as possible just now," said Col. Roosevelt today. He made the remark in all seriousness, notwithstanding the fact that ever since his return from South America he has been seeing his political associates at the rate of half a dozen a day.
The Colonel made this statement in response to a question about the organization work of the Progressive party during the last year, and his opinion of the pending proposal for its amalgamation with the Republican party. He declined to express any views upon these subjects.

Just at present Colonel Roosevelt said he was very busy with preparation of a new book. That would take up his spare time until after his return from Spain which will be on July 4. After that he said, he would give more time to politics, although he hoped that for six weeks he would not be obliged to give a great deal of time to party affairs.

"I'd like to get acquainted with my family," he explained, but he shook his head doubtfully as he said it. Another political conference was to be held today.
Colonel Roosevelt expected to see ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana Progressive leader; Theodore Tilton Robinson, New York Progressive state chairman; and Regis Post, former governor of Porto Rico.

FEDERAL LEAGUE FINES BIG PLAYERS FOR DESERTING

(Associated Press Telegram)
Baltimore, Md., May 23.—At a special meeting here today of the Federal baseball league, punishment was meted out to Pitchers Frank Smith and John M. Allen, who deserted the Baltimore club and attempted to join the Montreal club of the International league.
Smith was fined $100 and suspended for 45 days. Allen was fined $25 and suspended for 15 days. Manager Knabe of the local club refused an offer of the Brooklyn management for Smith, saying that the player must remain a member of the local team.

President James A. Gilmore presided at the session.

HANDICAP DRAWS LARGE FIELD OF CLASSY HORSES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Louisville, Ky., May 23.—A field of twelve horses and possibly more, is expected to go to the post at Douglas Park track here this afternoon to contest for the rich stake in the Kentucky handicap, at one mile and a quarter. This feature event of the opening day of the Douglas Park Spring meeting promises to bring together some of the best racers of all ages in the country, including Donerail, 1913 Kentucky Derby, Rudolfo, winner of the Kentucky handicap last year, Gowell the Latonia derby of 1912 and Flora Fina, which captured last season's dominant handicap.
While Rudolfo, who was a slight favorite for the event, Mc Luke, Hodge and Gowell are picked by many as possible victors and all the other entries have strong supporters among the turf experts here. Fast time and a close finish are predicted.
The purse for the handicap, with $10,000 added, will aggregate $14,300. Of this amount more than $10,000 will go to the winner.

JACKSON IS LEADING THE A. L. BATTERS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, May 23.—Joe Jackson of Cleveland, with 355, leads the American league batters this week, according to averages published today. Crawford of Detroit is second, with 336, and Barry of Philadelphia third, with 326. Ty Cobb of Detroit was fourth, with a percentage of .324, having climbed nine points during the last week. There are only eight 300 hitters in the league.
Ham Hyatt, Pittsburgh's great pinch hitter, this week batted himself into a tie for first place with Byrne of Philadelphia, among the National league hitters, each having a record of .340.

BRONZE TABLET FOR HISTORIC COFFEE HOUSE

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, May 23.—New York's financial district turned aside today from its commercial activities to give its attention to things sentimental in celebrating the anniversary of the Tontine coffee house, the original headquarters in 1793 of the New York stock exchange.

Included in the ceremonies was the unveiling of a bronze tablet outlining the history of the old hostelry which is at the northwest corner of Wall and William streets. Former Mayor Seth Low presided at the unveiling ceremonies.
Among the notable events with which the history of the old structure is identified was the reception to General Washington on his arrival in New York for his first inauguration. The building was erected in 1797, and on May 23, 1774, a letter was written there by a committee of merchants which was largely instrumental in the organization of the continental congress.

BIG LEAGUERS FLIRTING WITH THE FEDERALS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cincinnati, May 23.—Manager Joe Tinker, of the Chicago Federals, expects to interview Walter Johnson, Washington's star pitcher tomorrow, with a view to having him sign a contract with the local outlaw team, according to a special dispatch from Baltimore today. Tinker said he was authorized to see Johnson in Washington and offer him tempting inducements to join the new league. According to the Chicago manager, fifty big league players are in "receptive mood" toward offers to join the Federals next year.

Obituary

Mrs. O'Nora O'Gorman.
Mrs. O'Nora Noonan O'Gorman, widow of John O'Gorman, died at her home in German street on Saturday morning at 7:15 o'clock. Mrs. O'Gorman has been a sufferer for the past 22 months, from Bright's disease and heart trouble. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George Stasel, and a sister, Mrs. John Feeney, and four grandchildren.
Mrs. O'Gorman was a woman of lovable characteristics, and had endeared herself to her family and a large circle of friends. The funeral services will be held on Monday morning at St. Francis de Sales church and the burial will take place in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Mrs. Charlotte Stevens.
Mrs. Charlotte Stevens, aged 86 years, died very suddenly Saturday morning in the home of her son, Thomas Stevens, six miles southeast of Newark. She was stricken with acute indigestion at 4 a. m. and died one hour later.
The funeral service will be held Monday in the Big Clay Lick church at 10 a. m., and interment will be made in the cemetery adjoining.

Mrs. Stevens had been a lifelong resident of Licking county. Her husband died one year ago this month, in the family residence near where her son Thomas now lives. She was a member of the M. P. church at Pleasant Chapel.
Surviving are five children: William Stevens, of Eighteenth street, Newark; Cyrus, of Cleveland; John, of Franklin township, and Thomas and Hattie Lawyer, living in Gratiot.

Interment Made.
The body of William H. Tyhurst, who died very suddenly at his home in Pataskala a week ago Friday, was taken from the vault at Cedar Hill cemetery by undertakers Boller & Bradley and interred. The delay in burial was made necessary to allow a sister to come to Newark from Los Angeles, Cal.

The Courts

Divorce Granted.
In county court Saturday forenoon a decree of divorce was granted to Lottie L. Miller from Dalton H. Miller, of Celina. On grounds of extreme cruelty, gross neglect and intemperance. Attorney J. W. Horner represented the plaintiff and there were a number of Newark witnesses.

File Brief and Motion.
Counsel for John and Carl Swisher on Saturday filed a brief and motion in Common Pleas court to require counsel for Charles Donaldson to strike certain statements from their petition. Donaldson filed the Swisher on damages in connection with an accident on the Wilkins Run road in which, it is said, the Donaldson team took fright at the Swisher automobile, and one of the horses plunged off the road and was killed.

SPECIAL OFFICER WAS GIVEN FINE FOR POKER PLAYING

Six men were arrested at 2 o'clock Saturday morning for gambling at taken before Mayor Bigbee. One of them gave the name of Edward Edmondson. He had been sworn in as special policeman, and given a badge to assist in keeping order at the carnival grounds in Jefferson street. He was fined and paid $15 and costs, while the others were fined $10 and costs. One of these paid while the others were sent to jail in default.

COMMON LAW MARRIAGE IS FOUND VALID

The Court of Appeals has rendered a decision in a case tried in Delaware county, which is of great interest to people in the western part of this county. It involved the common law marriage of Abraham Walker, deceased, to Amanda Whitney Walker.

Abraham Walker was one of the largest land owners in the western part of Licking and eastern part of Delaware counties. At the time of his death he, with his brother, Cornelius, owned over one thousand acres of land.

For about ten years before his death he was living with Amanda Whitney Walker without a marriage ceremony having been performed. One child was born to the couple.

After his death Amanda Whitney Walker claimed to be his wife by a common law arrangement, and demanded her dower interest in his real estate.

The case was tried originally in the probate court of Delaware county and decided against Mrs. Walker. The case was appealed to the Common Pleas court and was heard by Judge Fulton about six months ago and decided by him in favor of the widow. From this finding the executors took the case to the court of Appeals, which has affirmed the finding of Judge Fulton and decided Mrs. Walker to be the common law wife of Abraham Walker and entitled to dower in his real estate.

This decision of the Court of Appeals settles the case.

The firm of Fitzgibbon, Montgomery & Black of Newark, represented Mrs. Walker, together with Marriott, Freshwater & Wickham of Delaware county, and the executors were represented by Overturf, Hough & Jones of Delaware county.

Failure of Fuse Saved The Viaduct From Destruction

GLASGOW, Scotland, May 23.—The failure of a fuse early today saved the viaduct, which carries half of Glasgow's water supply from Loch Katrine, 42 miles away. A watchman while patrolling the viaduct noticed some freshly turned earth. He made an investigation and discovered two powerful bombs with a half-burned fuse. In the vicinity he found a woman's handbag containing two trowels, yesterday's issue of "The Suffragette" and a placard stating that the destruction of the viaduct was a protest against the treatment of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst.

England last year imported 18,496,000 hundredweight of refined sugar and candy.

SAYS HUSBAND THREATENED HER WITH DYNAMITE

Fear of death by dynamite prompted Mrs. Emma Rolfe of Newark to engage a lawyer and file a suit for divorce, according to her own affidavit.

Mrs. Rolfe's petition for divorce was filed in Probate court by Attorney H. C. Ashcraft, and Judge Hunter granted a temporary injunction restraining Henry Rolfe from obtaining funds belonging to him and now said to be in the hands of the American Bottle company where, Mrs. Rolfe says he is employed at $20 per week.

Her petition says they were married December 27, 1911, and have no children. She charges him with specific instances of extreme cruelty, which, she says, came to a climax a week ago Friday when Rolfe is alleged to have threatened to blow up the house and his wife with dynamite.

AGAIN

When the little group in the courtroom had found seats the twelve men who alone knew Becker's fate filed silently in, with Foreman F. Meriden Bladen at their head. All twelve faces were expressionless.

Justice Seabury mounted the bench. He glanced quickly at the faces of the jurors, but he learned nothing there. Old Court, attendants, who declared long practice had made them able usually to tell the verdict by the jurors' looks, admitted that on this occasion they were at a loss.

Becker, in the room overhead, was still talking to his wife when Justice Seabury took his seat. A bailiff was sent for the defendant. Becker kissed his wife as he left her.

"It's all right," he told her. "Don't worry. They'll free me." Becker walked briskly through the courtroom to the rail facing Justice Seabury and gripped it with both hands. His face was colorless. He glanced hopefully at the jury, but he didn't catch the eye of a single man. To all outward appearances the jury didn't even know the defendant was in the room. Clerk Penny asked the jury to rise.

"Foreman," he said, "have you reached a verdict?"

Bladen, a youngish man, blond and slim, brushed his eyes with a handkerchief already damp. "We have," he said softly.

"We find the defendant," he hesitated a moment and continued in a whisper: "We find this defendant guilty as charged in the indictment, guilty of murder in the first degree."

Becker's face was grey as he gripped the bar in front of him with all his strength. The big muscles in his neck jumped out in heavy rolls. The veins at his temples swelled. His great frame swayed and drooped, then with quick control he became himself again.

Big tears welled into the eyes of the little foreman. He wiped them away and then the clerk began to ask the questions required by law. The roll was called and each individual juror was asked if "guilty" was his verdict, too.

Becker stood motionless while these questions were being put to the jurors. Immediately upon their conclusion the clerk began to take Becker's "pedigree." To the first question Becker answered in a steady voice that he was 13 years old, was born in the United States and that his parents had both been born in Germany.

"Married?" queried the clerk.

Becker did not answer immediately. Almost in a whisper he replied, "Yes."

As to his occupation Becker said he was a "former police officer in the city of New York," a Catholic and of temperate habits.

Justice Seabury thanked each man of the jury for his services and they left the room.

Attorney Manton, told by the court he would be granted a reasonable time in which to make any motions he deemed advisable, asked for one week and received it.

The only conference arranged this morning for Charles Becker, convicted yesterday for the second time of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was with his counsel, Martin T. Manton and Mrs. Becker. The basis for an appeal from the verdict, it was said, was the subject under discussion at the conference.

Becker spent a quiet night in his cell in the Tombs and awoke refreshed and comparatively cheerful. He ate a hearty breakfast and then read the newspaper accounts of his conviction.

District Attorney Whitman today received the following letter from Mayor Mitchell:

"I have just heard of the outcome of the Becker case. The whole community is under obligation to you. Your work has been splendid."

The district attorney, it was learned, today will submit to handwriting experts a number of letters which he believes were written by Becker to the condemned gunmen during their stay in the Sing Sing death house. These letters were turned over to the prosecutor by the wife of "Lefty Louie" Rosenberg after husband's death. They passed from Becker to the gunmen. It is believed, between the leaves of books of the prison library which were permitted to circulate among the prisoners condemned to death.

Although written in a disguised hand, the district attorney believes they came from Becker and he is holding them in reserve for an opportunity to use them as evidence against the convicted police lieutenant in the latter's efforts to obtain a reversal of judgment from the court of appeals.

REPORT NEWARK MAN MARRIED AT TOLEDO TUESDAY

Mr. S. L. Vermilion of this city went to Toledo on Monday last, and it is reported that on Tuesday evening he was married to Mrs. Thille Watts, a former resident of Brownsville, O. He was accompanied by his brother Frank, who saw to it that Steve stood hitched and not got gunshy and take to the tail timber upon approach of the officiating minister. After a "bounteous wedding supper the bridal party went for a honeymoon trip to the home of the groom's uncle, Mr. Abe Smith at Lionier, Indiana. They will return about June 1 to make their home in East Newark, where Mr. Vermilion has the cage furnished and ready for his bird. His many friends wish him much happiness in the years to come.

OFFERS REWARD FOR ARREST OF FLOWER VANDALS

Mr. Frank Schimpf of Hudson avenue will give a reward of $25 to the person furnishing information leading to the apprehension and conviction of the vandals, who ruined a number of hydrangea plants at his home Friday night. The guilty parties were not satisfied with stealing the flowers but in a spirit of inexcusable wantonness, tore the plants to pieces, picked the flowers and scattered many of them about the yard.

Mr. Schimpf secured a policeman and followed a trail of snow ball petals to a house where he believes the persons live who are guilty, but as he could find no direct evidence upon which to base an affidavit, no arrests were made.

Mayor Bigbee will deal with flower vandals severely when caught, as he believes that citizens should be protected in the laudable pride in yards beautified by growing flowers.

FLAG-RAISING AT CHURCH OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT

All is in readiness for the flag raising program to be given Sunday at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in East Main street, in which Catholic organizations, the board of education and the Old Guard will participate.

The church orders will receive communion at 7 a. m. in Blessed Sacrament church and at 2:30 p. m. the parade will start from the K. of C. rooms in West Main street, and march to the church headed by W. F. Sachs, grand marshal.

The opening address will be made by R. O. Martin, master of ceremonies. Grand Knight E. J. McCarthy will make the presentation of the flag to Rev. Fr. Waterson, as superintendent of the Blessed Sacrament school, who will respond with an address of acceptance. Rev. Fr. Mulhane will deliver an address, after which the flag will be raised and saluted by the Old Guard firing squad. Singing "The Star Spangled Banner" will mark the conclusion of the program.

MILITANT HELD BY A POLICEMAN DURING TRIAL

LONDON, May 23.—Frida Graham, the militant suffragette who yesterday slashed a number of valuable paintings in the National art gallery, was today committed for trial after a hearing at the police court. The accused kept up a continual howl from the prisoner's enclosure and was held fast by two policemen throughout the proceedings. The pictures were not so badly damaged as had been thought, according to the evidence of an official from the gallery.

A raid on the headquarters of the Woman's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization was carried out by the police this afternoon. They took possession of the offices and detained all the members of the staff on duty.

After thoroughly ransacking the rooms the police let all the officials go except one woman. There was no disturbance inside the building but a suffragette who arrived during the raid assaulted a policeman and appeared to be greatly aggrieved when he declined to arrest her. The public outside was distinctly hostile to the women but a large force of policemen protected them.

MINERS TO HOLD CONVENTION ON MONDAY, JUNE 1

COLUMBUS, May 23.—Ohio miners will hold a convention June 1, a day before their conference with operators as arranged yesterday at a meeting with Governor Cox, and at that time will formulate new wage demands.

A call for the convention will go out Monday, President John Moore of district No. 6, United Mine Workers, said today.

Whether the miners will continue to make the same demands of 71 3/4 cents a ton for pick mined, and 49.64 cents for machine mined coal on a mine run basis, miners' officials would not predict.

In the case for the convention, local unions will be asked to elect new delegates. Those who attended the former conference here the week of April 20, will not be delegates to the next convention unless re-elected.

You never can tell. Sometimes the faithful man really catches the most fish.

REINDEER CARNIVAL A SUCCESS

The big Reindeer carnival, Mack's United Shows, will close its week's engagement here Saturday night, and will show next week in Akron. Friday night's crowds were big, but it is expected that Saturday night will witness the biggest attendance of the week. The plantation show, a new attraction with black-face singers, dancers and jokers, opened Friday night to good business. Buckskin, Ben's Wild West, the motordrome and Captain Stalker's Deep Sea Mystery, continued to draw big crowds. Captain Stalker's show is one of the most instructive exhibits on the ground. His ship-like exhibition tent is filled at every lecture. This attraction will go to the Panama-Pacific exposition next year, it is announced. Crowds continue to patronize the merry-go-round and the Ferris wheel.

Reindeer committees are jubilant over the success of the carnival, and the excellent order that has been maintained by the force of "look-outs" kept on the grounds by the lodge.

"BILL'S" DOG TOOK PITY ON POOR FISH

"Bill" Fisher, who works in Oxley Bros. harness shop, West Main street, has a curly poodle dog. He did have a fish. This is the tale of the fish, not the tail of the dog.

Bill betook himself one day recently to the shady nooks along the South Fork, along lovers' lane, accompanied by his dog. Now Bill loves to fish when biting is good, but Bill's curly poodle dog is too humane to suit Bill. Poodle sat on the bank and watched his master land a nice big fry. Bill unhooked Mr. Fish and laid him on the bank while he rebated his hook. Poodle saw the flopping fish, and realizing that fish belong in the water when alive, grasped Mr. Fish in his mouth and replaced him in the placid stream, much to the chagrin of Bill, who is now teaching Poodle differently.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL WILL BE ERECTED AT BIRTHPLACE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, May 23.—A building to perpetuate the memory of the late President William McKinley, costing $200,000 is to be erected at his birth place, Niles, Ohio. This was decided yesterday by the trustees of the National McKinley Birthplace Memorial Association at a meeting in the office of John G. Milburn.

It was also decided to offer a suitable prize through a committee of the American Institute of Architects for the best competitive plans and drawings of the memorial.

A small park and surrounding plots of ground, comprising about five acres have been given by the city of Niles as a site for the building.

While the design and style of the memorial will be left open to the competitive architects, the trustees have already determined upon the chief features that are to be comprised within the interior. In this they have been guided by the desire to make the building as useful as it will be ornamental.

The main feature will include an auditorium, seating 1,000 persons, a public library, a relic room, in which will be placed personal and historic objects associated with the life of McKinley; and assembly hall for meetings of the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, where the state encampments may be held and for Spanish American war veterans, and a room for the meetings of officials of the city. The building will be of granite, two stories and a basement.

INSURGENTS MAY ATTACK PRINCIPALITY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, May 23.—Dispatches from Albania indicate that the capital of the new principality is in danger of attack by insurgent followers of Essad Pasha, former minister of war, who was recently deported and went to Italy.

A revolution has broken out at Tirana, east of Durazzo, and the government forces there have suffered defeat. A column of 5,000 rebels was today reported advancing on Durazzo, while at Kavaja, 12 miles south of the capital, insurgents hoisted the Turkish flag.

Austria and Italy are making preparations to send troops to Durazzo from Scutari.

ANNIVERSARY OF HUERTA'S VICTORY AT RELLANO, MEX.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Mexico City, May 23.—The second anniversary of the battle of Relano, which was won by General Huerta against the forces of General Pascual Orozco, was celebrated yesterday. In the morning many federal officers went to the Huerta home and congratulated the provisional president, a military band meantime playing a serenade in the street. A banquet, was served in the afternoon in the Huerta home at which high officials, military officers and personal friends were present.

anti-saloon league of Columbus, was on the program for an address, but was unable to be present, and replacing him, F. L. Dustman, editor of the American Issue, spoke for some time. Mr. Dustman concentrated most of his remarks to the women, telling them that without the least doubt, the day of equal suffrage was near at hand, and that the anti-saloon league depended upon them to force and bring victory to prohibition for the state. Mr. Dustman took advantage of the opportunity and in speaking of the lax methods and indifference shown by the voters, he launched the name of Mr. J. H. Miller, as state senator, telling how he had worked in the past for the temperance forces and how "he would stand by the guns until the end."

Ten minutes of song led by Prof. Carl Eschman was then enjoyed and the afternoon session closed with the address by Myron C. Settle, superintendent of the State Bible School of the Christian Church of Cleveland. Mr. Settle spoke on "Just One Reason for the Sunday School."

Friday Evening.

One of the largest audiences that ever assembled in this county for a Sunday school convention gathered in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church on Friday evening, and a most enthusiastic meeting was held. The program was excellent, the speakers being of real worth. Mr. Myron C. Settle spoke on "Training of the Teacher," and the song service was followed by the address of Dr. Kellogg, on "The Worth of the Boy."

Dr. Kellogg said in brief: "My talk is an appreciation of the boy; the majority of folks do not have a high valuation of the boy. The government has experts hired to care for the welfare of its domestic animals, yet it took four years to pass a bill in congress calling for a child's welfare bureau, with an appropriation of $25,000 per year for its maintenance. Yet the boy is superior to the lower animal world, because he can think, because he can will and because he can love. Man is the biggest thing in the world; bigger than any machine, bigger than Niagara Falls, bigger than the ocean. And you can't tell which boy is going to make the extraordinary man, if his dormant talents are brought out by some one's touch."

Saturday morning, Prof. Carl Eschman opened the morning session with a praise service during which he gave a short instruction in the proper way in which the hymn should be sung. Up to Saturday noon 147 delegates had registered, making the Newark convention one of the largest the county has ever held.

At 9:30 o'clock the annual business meeting was held opening with the roll call of the townships and followed by the secretary's annual report, read by Mr. L. L. Anderson, of Granville. Then Mr. F. L. Johnson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and chairman of the nominating committee read the list of nominations and the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, A. N. Dodd, Newark.

Vice president, D. A. Bricker, Utica.

Secretary, L. L. Anderson, Granville.

Treasurer, Bert T. Burch, Hebron.

Teacher training and Bible reading, A. R. Evans, Newark.

Home department and visitation, Miss Clarice Carroll, Alexandria.

Elementary and secondary, C. H. Cullison, Hanover.

Missions and temperance, J. H. Miller, Newark.

Sister: Read My Free Offer!

I am a woman.
I know a woman's trials.
I know her need of sympathy and help.
If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, if you feel under a household burden, if you are overworked, if you are suffering from nervousness, if you are suffering from indigestion, if you are suffering from constipation, if you are suffering from headache, if you are suffering from dizziness, if you are suffering from weakness, if you are suffering from all these things, then I have a free offer for you. I will send you a free trial of my "Women's Own Medical Adviser." It will tell you all the secrets of woman's health, and how to get it. It will tell you how to cure all these troubles, and how to keep them from coming back. It will tell you how to live, and how to be happy. It will tell you how to be a woman, and how to be a mother. It will tell you how to be a sister, and how to be a friend. It will tell you how to be a woman, and how to be a woman.

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT

and learn how these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters. I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember it costs you nothing to give my home treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is worth asking for, then accept my generous offer and write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Women's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers postpaid. To save time, you can cut out this offer, mark your feelings, and return to me. Send today, as you may not see this offer again. Address, MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box H, SOUTH BEND, IND.
